Cuyahoga County Resources, Services and Information for You

Vaccine Webpage Now Live

Cuyahoga County has published a COVID-19 Vaccination Information webpage so you can stay up-to-date on vaccine distribution in the county. You can check your eligibility for the current round of vaccines, sign up to receive a notification when you qualify for a vaccine, explore a map of vaccine locations, learn the myths and facts about getting vaccinated or even volunteer to administer vaccines.

Veterans Virtual Resource and Employment Fair

Cuyahoga County and OhioMeansJobs|Cleveland-Cuyahoga County have partnered with the Veterans Service Commission to host a Veterans Virtual Resource and Employment Fair on January 28th and 29th. The fair will help link Veterans and job seekers with employers who have immediate hiring needs and provide easy access to community services and resources. Registered attendees can browse the virtual booth of each organization and submit their resumes. Representatives will be available each day from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. to chat online with attendees.

Join the Lakefront Public Access Public Meeting

Cuyahoga County and the County Planning Commission will host a Virtual Public Information Meeting on Thursday, January 28 at 7 p.m. to invite residents to hear and comment about future plans to create easier access to Lake Erie. The Lakefront Public Access Plan was announced by County Executive Armond Budish last year and aims to improve transportation networks and increase public access to Lake Erie in tandem with shoreline stabilization efforts.

$10 Million Investment in Cuyahoga County Economic Development

Arctaris Impact Investors and Cuyahoga County have launched the Arctaris Cuyahoga Impact Project, a $10 million commitment to invest and lend capital in growing companies across the county located in Opportunity Zones and low-to-moderate income census tracts. This program will build community equity and inclusion while creating jobs and enhancing access to capital for growing companies. Arctaris and the County will work together to expand the program size from $10 to $50 million by partnering with local foundations and financial institutions. The majority of the program will support existing businesses and attract new businesses in industries such as manufacturing, industrials and healthcare.
