Legislation Introduced to Advance Plans Toward Replacing County Jail

Cuyahoga County Executive Armond Budish this week presented legislation to County Council to acquire property and extend the sales tax to facilitate plans to replace the 46-year-old County Corrections Center. "Based upon in-depth studies and investigations, it is clear that our current jail is outdated. A new jail will be more safe, efficient, and effective both for the prisoners and the corrections personnel," stated Budish. The legislation will go through multiple Council and Committee meetings before a vote is held.
